Dear Mr. Simborg:

It has come to our attention that Mr. Frank, Inc. has been rinsing out their sludge and residue from their tankers on your property near their facility at South Holland.

Mr. Michael Grad stated that you are aware of the dumping. The permitting of this dumping is in violation of the Illinois Environmental Protection Act and Chapter 7 of the Pollution Control Board's Solid Waste Rules and Regulations.

This dumping must cease, and all previously deposited material must be moved to an approved sanitary landfill.

To impress you with the significance of these violations, you are hereby advised that Title 12, Section 42(a) of the Illinois Environmental Protection Act states in part: "Any person that violates any provisions of this Act or any regulation adopted by the (Illinois Pollution Control Board) Board, ...shall be liable to a civil penalty of not to exceed $10,000 for said violation and an additional civil penalty of not to exceed $1,000 for each day during which violation continues". And in addition, among other possibilities, you are liable for all measures that may be required to correct the violations.

Sincerely,

Kenneth P. Bechely, Northern Regional Manager
